CITY TRUSTEES

Bids Opened for Street Work—Reports of City Officials—Street Palms to be Removed

City Clerk Woodberry returned from his sick leave.

Bids on the street work on Campbell and Dryden streets opened and referred.

Demands were read and referred. Report of the city marshal was referred to the public welfare committee. Report of the recorder was that there were twelve cases reported for the last month and they netted the city $82.50 in fines. The tax collector reported $962 as this month's collections. Report of the street superintendent as to the progress of work read and placed on file.

A permit to hunt on the land of the Verdugo Land and Water Co. was received from Fred Verdugo and granted.

A communication from the Union Lithographing Co. of Los Angeles requesting that they be given the opportunity to bid on the work of furnishing the bonds to be used in the bonds issued as a result of the recent bond election was read and laid aside until further action in the matter was taken.

The returns of the bond election were declared to be official.

The telephone and telegraph franchise to be placed on sale was read and adopted. The franchise to run for 25 years. Trustee Lane argued that the city should insert in the franchise a clause stating that the city should have the right to purchase the equipment of telephone companies at the end of five years, but finally withdrew his argument. Bids for the purchase of the franchise are to be read and received on the night of December 30th.

Upon the advice of the city clerk the street inspector was instructed to make necessary repairs in Sycamore Canyon in order that the canyon storm water shall drain into the wash instead of into the city's water supply.

Moved and carried that the chairman appoint a committee to confer with the light superintendent in regard to establishing a lighting standard for the residential district of the city.

Moved and carried that Engineer Lynch should make a report as to the condition of the water main of the Verdugo Canyon Water Co., since the water supply of the city depends on the strength of this main.

Moved and carried that the palms in the parkway on Brand boulevard north of Broadway and south of Third street should be removed and the holes cemented over at the expense of the city. Adjourned.

GLENDALE CARPENTERS TO ENTERTAIN.

Members of the social committee of the Glendale carpenters, together with their wives, met at the home of R. S. Henry, 1415 West Fifth street on Thursday to complete their plans for an entertainment which is to be given November 19th at eight o'clock in Odd Fellows hall.

The entertainment is to be called the "Homestead Fair," and is to be held annually or semi-annually. Each of the members will make several articles for exhibition and sale which are to range in price from twenty-five cents to ten dollars. One grand prize, valued at $15 is to be given away during the evening.

The women have charge of the social part of the evening and are planning an excellent musical program. Home-made candy will be sold during the evening, also popcorn balls, candied popcorn strings and cracker-jack, something for the children both large and small.

Mrs. L. F. Kerri has charge of the decorating. The advertising will be done by Mrs. W. M. Moore and Mrs. R. S. Henry. Other committees have not yet been appointed.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS VISIT GLENDALE.

President Paul Shoup and three or four other officials of the Pacific Electric came out on a special car Monday last, and after lunching at La Ramada, toured Glendale in an auto. They looked over the east side of the town in particular, and did not seem to be in touch with any local people. Their visit started up some speculation in regard to the expected extension of their line on Glendale avenue or further east, but nothing new and reliable has been given out.

Mrs. Helen Smith and Master Charles Smith are enjoying a week at Thornycroft.

A BIG VOTE POLLED

Goode Carries Glendale by 300—Verdugo Precinct Votes Restaurant License—Returns in Detail

Eighteen hundred and thirty-two voters registered their votes in the City of Glendale Tuesday last. The day was ideal and all the conditions were favorable to a large turnout. The one candidate for whom any special effort was made was Glendale's candidate for supervisor, E. D. Goode, and in Glendale he beat his principal opponent by over 300 votes. The returns show, however, that there were over 400 voters who did not cast any vote for this office. Many were casting their first vote, and no doubt became confused when left alone in the booths and did not vote the ticket through to the end. Another thing which lost Mr. Goode votes was the placing of that office at the bottom of the ticket, where it was easy to overlook it.

GOBLINS PLAY AT FIFTH AND MARYLAND

Weird and spooky in the extreme was the Halloween party given by Mr. and Mrs. Conroy B. Mallory, who were married recently, at their home, 441 South Maryland avenue last Saturday evening.

The guests, gowned in white and masked, assembled at about 8:30, and were received by the host and hostess, who were dressed as a ghost and witch. They were led into a spookily-looking apartment, where were in evidence dancing witches, Mother Goose with her broom, black cats, and many other unearthly things prepared to frighten the new arrivals. The wide front porch was illumined with dozens of Japanese lanterns and pumpkins.

When all invited guests had arrived a slow "moany" dead march was begun, in which all participated except the witch, who officiated at the piano. The march over, the guests adjourned to the dining room, where in an alcove, a life-size witch stirred in a slow methodical manner the contents of the old iron pot, under which glowed an imitation fire. From over the edge of the post hung tiny strips of ribbon. One of these each guest drew, finding at the end the long-dreaded fortune, which, doubtless, was correct.

The guests were further enlightened as to their future by the witch, who, seated in her secluded corner, told many things that filled her hearers with awe.

Many weird games were played during the evening, the most popular of which was "The Trip to Reno."

At quite a late hour the guests unmasked and were bidden to the feast in the dining room, which consisted of salads, doughnuts, sandwiches, pumpkin pie served on wooden plates, and black coffee. The decorations of the table were unusually unique. As a centerpiece was a mammoth golden pumpkin in which an electric light glowed, and around which were witches, black cats, etc., while the places of the various guests were marked with mock oranges.

The following guests declared that the evening was one of the most pleasant they had experienced for a long time: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hood of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cooley of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blanchard of La Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Plummer Durand and Samuel and Harland Durand of La Canada; Miss Verona Toby of Redland, Charles Lusk of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. M. Allen, Mrs. F. E. Mallory and Mrs. Elmer Smith of Los Angeles.

INITIATION DATE CHANGED.

Owing to the inability of the installing team of Highland Park to be able to put on the work of initiation for Carnation Rebekah lodge on Nov. 7, as at first expected, the date has been set for November 14th. All interested please take notice.

Mr. R. H. Wells of 1504 West Broadway is spending the week at Grand Canyon for business purposes.

HALLOWEEN SOCIAL AT I. O. O. F. HALL.

Everybody will be insured a good time is what Carnation Rebekah lodge said when they announced a Halloween social at the Odd Fellows' hall on October 31st, and it was carried out to the letter. There was a good crowd to enjoy the entertainment provided for them. The chairs in the hall were arranged in three circles, representing the three links. Brother Booth was the host of the center circle, while Mrs. Gilson and Miss Sprinkle served as hostesses to the other two. The guests of the circles enjoyed various games, using a large pumpkin as a fish pond, sometimes with fine success and sometimes not so lucky. Mrs. James Everett and Mr. Allen Bullis received the first prize for the best trimmed jack-o'-lantern which turned out to be a fine imitation of a Jap. Much amusement was caused at this contest. After the games, refreshments were served consisting of pumpkin pies and sweet cider.

The reception committee for the evening was Mrs. Blay, Mrs. Klamm and Miss Rand, dressed in black with stars and witches' caps. Following was the program: Piano duet, Miss Hathaway, Mrs. Durset; piano solo, Miss Hathaway of Los Angeles; recitation, Garren Blay; vocal solo, Mrs. Thurber; recitation, Mildred McKee; piano duet, Mrs. Durset, Miss Rand; final, dancing by everybody so inclined.

GLENDAL, CAL., NOVEMBER 8, 1912

At the time this is written, it has not been decided whether the so called "Home Rule Taxation" amendment has been adopted or not, but it is to be hoped that this freakish legislation by which sixty different systems of taxation in California may be adopted, has been rejected.

THE WAR IN THE BALKANS.

Now that the election is over, we may turn our attention to the history that is making over in Europe. Patrick Henry in his best known oration declared, "I can only judge the future by the past," and so is formed the judgment of the world. But the twentieth century and its way of doing things has no precedent that is known to history. Events move with incredible swiftness, and in the Balkans and about the shores of the Black Sea a dreadful and epoch-making war is in the full height of its frenzy before the world outside has awakened to the fact of its possibility. Turkey, with a great army of supposed efficiency, has been whirled in half a dozen battles in scarcely as many days, by a combination of third or fourth class powers. The history that we know and the past with which we are familiar, affords no means by which we can gauge the future and so prophecy is of no value. The Bulgarians are not high types of civilization, but they have the sympathy of nearly all the world in their struggle with the "unspeakable Turk."

THE ELECTION.

The expected has happened, and the country has ahead of it at least four years of rule by the Democratic party, which has elected its candidate for president and carried both houses of congress. That all departments of the government pass into the hands of the triumphant party is fortunate in one respect; there will be no divided responsibility, the burden of government resting entirely upon the party, so that it must answer clearly to the people for all that it does. This fact will probably enable the president-elect to hold a strong rein upon the radicals in the party, who will want to turn things over in accordance with the "progressive" policy of trying experiments.

There need be no time wasted by the enemies of the Republican party, in obituaries. It lives, and will continue to do so far beyond the life of its critics. It has temporarily turned aside to assist its old-time opponent in rebuking the most colossal egotist (and therefore the most dangerous) that has ever figured in American public life. This being done, its members continue to bear in private life the burden of good citizenship, ready at any time to again go to the front and combine with the members of any other party in upholding the principles upon which rests the best government that has ever been given to any nation.

The "Battle of Armageddon" doesn't seem to have been so much, after all. The Jane Addamses will now please sing.

Backward, lusty soldiers,
Marching from the war,
With the Big Bull Moose
Stranded on the bar.

OF WHAT VALUE IS AN OATH?

The state campaign just ended has been remarkable in more than one respect and in no way has it been more notable than in the disregard which candidates generally have shown for the official oath to which they have all subscribed and to which so many of them have been disloyal. This was noticeable in the early days of the campaign in regard to hominizing petitions which had to be accompanied by affidavits pledging the aspirant to support the candidate of the party with which he affiliated. Owing to specious sophistry this difficulty was explained away to the apparent satisfaction of all who chose not to be bound by the narrow interpretation of their oath, but in a more recent and notable instance, even sophistry has not availed to smooth out the wrinkles that must have tended to corrugate the smoothness of the plastic conscience.

Almost on the eve of election day in this county, announcement was made over the names of three of the candidates nominated for judges, that they had "withdrawn" from the contest and would not be candidates.

When these gentlemen filed their nominating petitions, they subscribed to an oath before a notary, declaring that "I further solemnly state that if nominated at the forthcoming primary election for the office of judge, I will accept said nomination, and will not withdraw my name from the ticket or from the consideration of the electors."

Two of these candidates are men recommended by the "Good Government" organization of this county, as worthy of the people's support. Probably they are worthy men in a general way good citizens standing well with their neighbors, men whose word is good in the ordinary affairs of the world both in public and private life, but has the twentieth century a code of morality so different from that prevailing in the past that hereafter when desiring to compliment a man on his probity we shall say "His oath is as good as his word?" If men who aspire to judicial honors have such light regard for an oath, what may we expect from the average man?

Any one familiar with courts of law can testify that perjury is the most common of crimes and its punishment most rare. It is a crime that strikes at the very foundation of justice and the carelessness with which oaths are so frequently administered and subscribed to, constitutes an evil that should be taken cognizance of by all who desire a real reform in the administration of justice. When every man considers himself justified in swearing to that which he knows to be untrue, on the plea of good intentions, the law becomes a farce and if the practice becomes much more common than it is, the courts may as well be abolished. The average man wants to be truthful and much of the responsibility for his unreliability upon the witness stand must be placed upon the shoulders of the lawyers who too frequently advise him that things are not as they seem to him, and that the law does not mean what it says.

A far more efficient remedy for the unsatisfactory work of our courts than the recall of judges, would be the swift and sure punishment of the perjurer; and the encouragement given by any one lawyer or layman, to the crime of trifling with an oath, should be rebuked by the people who believe that the truth should not be trifled with.

JUST TALK

I met on the street a few days ago a well-known politician of this county, one of the successful ones, whom I have known for many years. I had not seen him for a year or two and was struck by the change in his appearance since last we met. I remember him as the picture of health and vigor with an eye of brightness and the spring of youth in every action.

saw a man prematurely old, the fire gone from his eyes and the glow of health vanished from the now hollow cheeks. The sight of him made me sad and I could not avoid the thought that here was an illustration of the foolishness of our little ambitions for place and power. This man does not need to stay in public life for anything that it may bring him. He can afford to sit under his own vine and fig tree and view with serenity the passing show, but he is not constituted that way. The excitement of the contest has got into his blood or else he really believes that the country cannot well do without him, and in either case he is an object of pity. If he leads the politician's life, for the glory there is in it, he is chasing a will-o-the-wisp and the bubble if he clutches it will be dead sea fruit that will turn to ashes in his hands. There is only one office in the United States that is worth aspiring to by a man who wants to make a name on the pages of his nation's history. If he attains to the presidency there is a possibility that his memory may be kept reasonably green for a hundred years, but that is about the limit.

The names of the most of our vice presidents are unfamiliar to the large majority of our people. Possibly the memory of a dozen senators of the United States may be alive in the minds of those best informed as to our political history, but the rest have all gone into the ash heap of oblivion. California has several men among its citizens who have in years past represented the state in the United States senate, but how many of us can recall their names? No, it isn't worth while; political fame is the most evanescent of the delusions that have lured men from the quiet peacefulness of home and family into the arena where fierce passions and foolish fancies combine to rob their victims of the quieter enjoyment of life.

MAYOR WATSON DETERMINED TO IMPROVE LOCAL WATER CONDITIONS.

The failure of the proposition favored by the city trustees to bond the city of Glendale for a municipal water system has by no means settled that important question. The trustees and Mayor Watson in particular are determined that if they can prevent it there shall be no repetition of last summer's water-shortage in any part of the city. This shortage was not because of any lack of water, but because of the failure of the water company to make necessary repairs to its pump, and to the general inadequacy of the distributing system. The Consolidated Company will soon pass into the hands of Mr. L. C. Brand, and there is every probability that in the future its affairs will be carried on in a manner that will be much more satisfactory to consumers. Mr. Watson waited upon Mr. Brand a few days ago, and was well pleased with the outcome of the interview. He found Mr. Brand in possession of a fair knowledge of local conditions here and disposed to do what is possible to remedy the principal defects of the system. He said he was willing to devote the net proceeds of the coming winter season to the betterment of the system by installing larger pipe lines to at least some extent where the need is the greatest. Mr. Brand acceded readily to the proposition of Mr. Watson to have submitted to him a plan outlined by the city as to necessary improvements and promised to give any such suggestions his serious consideration. One of the improvements thought to be of prime importance is the laying of a larger main on Columbus avenue, which will enable the city to install fire plugs; as the requisite pressure can be secured by this improvement. In order to give greater pressure in the pipes along Ninth street it is suggested that that section be connected with the main above the present reservoir.

NEW POSTAGE STAMPS.

Postmaster General Hitchcock has directed that 80,000,000 one-cent, 150,000,000 two-cent, 8,000,000 five-cent, 5,000,000 ten-cent Panama-Pacific International Exposition postage stamps be prepared and placed on sale in the postoffices beginning January 1, 1913. The stamps are about three-fourths of an inch high by one and a sixteenth inch wide. At the top appear the words: "U. S. Postage" and "San Francisco, 1915."

The one-cent stamp is green. In the center appears within a circle a bust of Balboa, discoverer of the Pacific Ocean.

The two-cent stamp is red. It represents the tatum marks of the Panama Canal.

The five-cent stamp is blue and represents the Golden Gate of San Francisco Harbor.

The ten-cent stamp is dark yellow. "The Discovery of San Francisco Bay."

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—Beginning with January 1 of next year, the Hariman lines will assume all bond premiums of employees in their service, according to an announcement made at the offices of the Southern Pacific Company here today.

In the past, it has been the custom to require all men handling money to put up a security bond, and the premium on it has been paid by the employee himself. After the first of the year this expense will be borne by the railroad company.

On the Pacific System of the Southern Pacific, alone, there are about 45,000 employees, and the new arrangement, it is said, will involve a heavy expenditure annually.

This action is in line with the welfare campaign which the Southern Pacific and its allied lines are carrying on to better the conditions under which its employees are working.

ON JUDGES.

Judges ought to be more learned than witty, more reverent than plausible and more advised than confident. Above all things, integrity is their portion and proper virtue.—Bacon.

He who the sword of heaven will bear
Should be as holy as severe.
Pattern in himself to know,
Grace to stand and virtue go,
More nor less to others paying
Than by self offenses weighing.
Shame to him whose cruel striking
Kills for faults of his own liking!
—Shakespeare.

Four things belong to a Judge—to hear courteously, to answer wisely, to consider soberly and to decide impartially.—Socrates.

ON THE NATURE OF WEALTH.

A man is not poor because he has nothing, but because he does not work. The man who, without any degree of wealth, has an employment is as much at his ease as he who without labor has an income of 100 crowns a year. He who has no substance and yet has a trade is not poorer than he who, possessing ten acres of land, is obliged to cultivate it for his subsistence. The mechanic who gives his art as an inheritance to his children has left them a fortune which is multiplied in proportion to their number. It is not so with him who, having ten acres of land, divides it among his children.—Montesquieu.

FARMERS MUST FIGHT THE PEST.

Don't allow the manure to accumulate about the barns. Manure is the principal breeding place for flies. Flies do not travel great distances. Most of their life is spent close to where they are hatched and where they get their food. Keep the garbage can closed. Screen the doors and the windows of the farmhouse. Do not pour slop, skim milk or other hog feed on the ground. Filth and flies have no place in modern standards of living.—Kansas Farmer.

The Theosophical Path for November (Point Loma, Cal., Katherine Tingley, editor), opens with an able and witty criticism of Prof. Schafer's presidential address before the British Association for the Advancement of Science on "The Origin and Nature of Life," which created such a sensation in the scientific world. In a masterly way, Prof. H. T. Edge mercilessly dissects the address, "one of the most eloquent scientific romances uttered in recent times, but quite innocuous, a magnificent fossil disintegrated from the debris of mid-nineteenth century speculation." Prof. Edge, however, declares that his remarks "do not constitute an attack on evolution or on modern science in general, say rather that in impugning what we conceive to be erroneous, we are defending what is right in science." Theosophists are champions of evolution.

There is always a refreshing originality as well as "distinct literary merit about the writings of Kenneth Morris, the Welsh poet and writer. To the current issue of the Theosophical Path, he contributes "Language," an article which in our opinion should be read by every university student as well as by every Esperantist or other "Universal language" enthusiast. "Language," he declares, "is a living thing that perpetually flows out of the life of the people. To learn a new language, so that you do learn it, and not merely acquire a strange vocabulary to wrap round your old thoughts and feelings, is to bathe in and become familiar with the soul of another race; new worlds will be opened, and new outlook upon life. If one were asked what is the best language in the world, the true answer would be all of them. French is quite the best (French) language that there is, and English is quite the best (English) language. If we are to have a cosmopolitan tongue some time, it must be one that reflects all the glory of every nation, and is deep with the highest and most secret peculiar imaginings of all; not some common commercial drudge or lingua franca." "English shall be judged by her Shakespeare and her Milton; not by the British Mercantile Marine; it is better for a language to have one hero speak it at home than to be jabbered by hucksters in all the markets of the world."

World's Temperance Sunday, Hosea vii.

Golden Text:—Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning that they may follow strong drink, that tarry late into the night till wine inflame them! Isa. vii.

(1.) Verses 1-2—Why cannot a nation nor an individual be mortally healed as long as wrongdoing is continued?

(2.) If a government is corrupt and the teachers of the nation false to their trust what will be the condition of the people?

(3.) Would men in authority act corruptly if they actually realized that God took notice of their every wicked way?

(4.) What effect does continued wrongdoing have upon the judgment of the sinner, upon his own acts?

(5.) Verse 3—How fares the nation when the king, the president, the governor, the judge or others in high authority have been subtly blinded by "graft" or influenced by wine?

(6.) Verse 4—When lust and anger burn in a man until his whole life is "leavened" what is the influence of such a life and what will be the man's future?

(7.) Verse 5—What is the difference in the effect of "wine" upon the "king" and upon the plebeian?

(8.) What is the general effect of drinking wine at banquets and other similar functions?

(9.) At what stage in wine drinking does an ordinarily decent man join "his hand with the scorners?"

(10.) Verse 6—After an all night carousal how does a man feel in the morning?

(11.) When men "lie in wait" to do some devilish thing and drink while they wait what effect does the drink have upon them?

(12.) Verse 7—When men are "hot" with wine is it ever a burning desire to do good? Give your reasons. (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(13.) When we find men "hot" with rebellion against good judges and good government, to which class do they generally belong, total abstainers or drinkers? Why?

(14.) In these days how many good, God fearing men use wine as a beverage?

(15.) Verse 8—When professed Christians consort with the wicked what will be the inevitable result, and why?

(16.) What kind of man is he who compares with "a cake not turned," that is burned on one side and half raw on the other?

(17.) Verses 9-10—What proportion of drinkers are so fuddled that they are unconscious of loss and cannot see danger?

(18.) When men or women are besotted with pride what hope is there for them?

(19.) Verses 11-13—What were the results when God's ancient people relied upon other nations for help when God had promised them all the help they needed?

(20.) Verses 14-16—How is it that when men have brought great suffering upon themselves by sin they still insist upon rebelling against God?

MONSTER SEA COW INJURES FISHERMAN.

Hits Him With Flipper When He Tries to Tie It.

Mexican fishermen had an exciting encounter with a manatee, a giant sea cow, in the shallow water of the Laguna Madre near Point Isabel, Texas, not long ago. It was captured only after one of the men, Ramon Rodriguez, had been seriously hurt by one of its flippers.

The creature was twelve feet long and weighed more than 3,000 pounds. It was captured alive.

The sea cow is supposed to have come up from the more southern waters of the gulf. It entered the Laguna Madre at the pass which separates the island from the mainland and was seen by the fishermen struggling in a shallow part of the strip of water.

A boat with three men went out to capture it. When they got close to it Rodriguez climbed out of the boat and attempted to put a rope around the manatee's fins and was knocked unconscious by a blow from one of its flippers.

He would have drowned had he not been dragged into the boat by his companions. The rope was finally fastened, and the manatee was towed ashore. It is the second of its kind captured in the Laguna Madre in the last few weeks.

These animals are quite numerous along the coast 150 to 200 miles south of Point Isabel. They are adapted to salt and fresh water. A strange feature of their appearance in the waters along the coast is that they are usually accompanied by a school of "sea devils," great sea monsters frequently weighing as much as 4,500 pounds each. One of them when harpooned has been known to drag twenty boats, hitched tandem, each carrying two men.—New York World.

Dump Boy Saved Sixty.
Fred Evans was a boy who worked in the dump in an Illinois coal mine. One day there was a cave-in, and the earth and coal in settling imprisoned sixty men. The foreman of the rescuing party saw the small opening the cave-in had left between the places where these men stood and the outer world, and he spoke to this boy to know if he would dare to help him.

"The hole is just big enough for you to crawl through," he said, "and to drag a hollow pipe after you. You'll have to be mighty careful or the coal will settle and crush your life out. But if you can get it through to them then we can pump air enough in to keep them alive till we can dig them out. Are you willing to try it?"

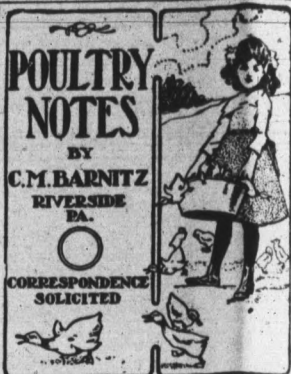

All Fred answered was, "I'll do my best."

It was a 600 foot crawl, and many a time it stopped, and those outside gave up hope, but at last there was a faint call through it that told them he was there. They began pumping air and water and milk through the pipe and kept it up for a week, when Fred and the whole sixty were safely brought out and given back to their families.—Heldberg Teacher.

Punished For His Heroism.

An American who served in the British army in the Boer war has an interesting story to tell. He wanted excitement, so he left Boston for England and enlisted in the South Lancashire regiment. April of 1900 found him aboard a troopship bound for South Africa and the war. During target practice one day a seaman fell overboard in a rough sea. A boat was launched. A wave threw it against the propeller of the steamer and shattered it. As the bugle call for all to fall into ranks was sounded a Yorkshire man took a bender overboard. When a rescue boat was finally safely launched the Yorkshire man was supporting two men from drowning.

No medal came to him, however. Once on board ship again he was sent to the guardhouse because of not obeying the "fall in" command.

THE BUFF WYANDOTTES.

Our Buff Dotted enthusiasts have sure been mixed up over the origin of their variety, for there was certainly much checker playing with different breeds before the present beautiful bird evolved.

It sure is a crackerjack composite. Here are the different mixtures: The first inventor made his Buffs of Silver Laced Dotted and Rhode Island Reds and crossed the result with Buff Cochins.

The second manufactured his of Golden Dotted and Buff Cochins.

The fourth used White and Golden Dotted and Buff Cochins, and the fifth crossed Gold and White Dotted, and the pullets recrossed with Golden Dotted.

All this happened in five years, from 1885 to 1890. After all this then the cruel contradictory chicken jury declares the present Buff Dotted is a scramble of White and Golden Dotted, Buff Cochins and Rhode Island Red.

And what a confusion and scrap over that word "buff!"

Some had lemon, others reddish brown, and still others had pumpkin colored birds and even grew two shades on the same bird, and each one claimed his birds to be buff, perfect buff.

The Standard settled the fuss by making it an even shade of rich golden buff in all sections.

Such golden birds, with their glossy neck, hackle back, wing bows, saddle and tail, their round rose comb, red eyes, face, ear lobes and wattles, their yellow beak and shanks and graceful curves—such birds are certainly beautiful and popular.

But they also excel in feathering fast and plumping up quick into fine yellow butter ball broilers, roasters and capons.

Then they are great winter layers. The rose comb and the long, thick, fluffy Cochins feathering afford protection against cold, and they also inherit the hardiness and laying qualities of their whole, wide, strong ancestry.

DON'TS.

Don't say a hen sets on a sitting of eggs. She sits on a setting unless it's a corncock or a doorknob or she sits standing.

Don't expect hens to do well unless they are well cared for.

Don't let the dull season pass without putting in good ticks for winter. Jack Frost is no respecter of lazy, careless people.

Don't store beef scrap in a damp place or let it stand around in sacks. An oak or iron barrel is best.

Don't mix mash by hand for a large flock when mash mixers may be purchased at a reasonable price. They do the trick better and save time and temper.

DIFFICULTIES.

Difficulties strengthen the mind as labor the body.—Seneca.

It cannot be too often repeated that it is not helps, but obstacles, not facilities, but difficulties, that make men.—W. Matthews.

Difficulties show men what they are. In case of any difficulty God has pitted you against a rough antagonist that you may be a conqueror, and this cannot be without toil.—Epictetus.

What is difficulty? Only a word indicating the degree of strength requisite for accomplishing particular objects, a mere notice of the necessity of exertion, a bugbear to children and fools, only a stimulus to men.—Samuel Warren.

Difficulties are God's errands, and when we are sent upon them we should esteem it a proof of God's confidence as a compliment from him.—H. W. Beecher.

GHOST PARTY AND HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL.

Members and friends of the Socialist Society of Glendale spent a very pleasant evening at a Ghost party Thursday evening of last week at their meeting place, northeast corner of Sixth and Kenwood streets. The evening was spent in the playing of games after which refreshments were served consisting of doughnuts, coffee and pumpkin and apple pies. The ghosts being of a material kind seemed to feel very much at home at the last named function.

The guessing contest on the weight of the pumpkin at Cornwell and Kelly's Hardware Store aroused much interest. Mrs. H. B. Tupper of 1433 Vine street was the first woman who guessed the correct weight and was the winner of the aluminum percolator. Mr. T. K. Taylor, the first man to guess the correct weight, won the five dollar auto stop safety razor. The pumpkin weighed 8 3/4 pounds.

Miss Cecil Elliott of San Diego, arrived in Glendale on Thursday to spend the coming week as house guest of Mrs. W. E. Evans of Orange street.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wallington are occupying the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stockbridge on Lomita avenue. Mr. Wallington is leading man of the Selig Company. Mr. and Mrs. Stockbridge are at present residing at 810 West Seventh street.

Last Monday the Glendale Elks had great sport with some of their candidates for membership. One would-be member was taken from the barber's chair, handcuffed and put in a cage on the Elks' patrol wagon with other fellow sufferers and driven around town to see the sights.

Mrs. Emma Craft, who has been employed as a nurse in Dr. Thompson's hospital at Burbank, was married November 1st to Mr. Callaway of Whittier at the home of Rev. Utter, pastor of the First Christian church. The young couple have gone to Whittier for a short honeymoon and will then make their home in Whittier.

Charles Shropshire of the U. S. S. South Dakota, has arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shropshire of Everett street for the first time in over twelve months, during which time he has visited the Hawaiian Islands, Japan and China. He returned bringing many odd and interesting gifts for his family. At the end of a ten days' furlough he will leave for a trip to Panama.

HALLOWE'EN CHURCH SOCIAL.

The hospitable home of Dr. and Mrs. Hunt was crowded Thursday evening of last week by a company of friends assembled to do honor to the Halloween festival, enjoy a few social hours and incidentally help along the financial interests of St. Mark's church. It happened also that the neighborhood of Fifth and Belmont had been chosen by a party of youngsters as a royster place where the license given yearly by the festive saint could be indulged in with just a shadow of danger from the vigilance of Glendale's police force. As a result the large automobile of Mr. Witt disappeared from its moorings for a short time, but was soon returned. The most serious outrage however was that committed in an unwarranted assault upon some pumpkin pies stored temporarily on the back porch, which were filched from their resting place and feloniously consumed or destroyed. Fortunately there were plenty of their kind in reserve and the guests never missed them, but after indulging in Five Hundred and other equally harmless and diverting means of pastime, enjoyed a Halloween repast of pies, doughnuts, coffee, etc. It was a very pleasant social affair and was equally satisfactory to the ladies who were looking out for the interests of St. Mark's.

COMRADES OF G. A. R. POST.

Saturday at 2 o'clock at headquarters, Ninth and Glendale avenue, regular meeting. Matters of interest to come before the Post. Comrades, do not fail to be present. Visiting comrades especially invited. You are more than welcome. Meeting opened to all at 3:15. Come, give encouragement to the old boys by your presence. Do not forget, November 22nd. One of the times of your life. A good time for all. Camp fire.

A GOOSE STEW.

The sportsmen of Sacramento are preparing a unique entertainment to be given in that city on Nov. 24th in the shape of a "Goose Stew" to which all sportsmen are invited. In addition to the "stew" there are to be other things doing in the way of races, boxing contests, etc. Our fellow citizens who can arrange for their passage over the space spanned by the unpopular "Octopus" (S. F.) will have a good time.

The Socialist Dancing Club will give a dance to which the public is invited Friday evening, Nov. 16th, next, at Odd Fellows hall. The popular Smeby orchestra will furnish the music.

Glendale's candidate for supervisor, E. D. Goode, made an excellent run, being beaten in the district by Fridham with only eight or nine hundred majority.

They were made the recipients of a large number of gifts, tributes and remembrances of their many friends. Friends of Miss Dorothy Moffatt of West Fifth street spent the afternoon with her on Sunday in celebration of her birthday. Refreshments were served and quiet games played.

THE ELECTION AT TROPICO.

Roberts won in the fight for assembly, with Randall a close second. For state senator, Carr led the field, while Bell captured the honors in the race for Congress. Mr. W. D. Lathrop who returned last week from a very pleasant trip, having completely circled the United States, and enjoying a delightful visit with relatives, says it was only the climate of Glendale that called him back.

The Queen Esther's towel social at the West Glendale M. E. church on Friday evening last, was quite a success. They received 76 towels all fresh and new, which means quite a help to the Orphan's Home. There was a very good program and extra good refreshments of the very best of cakes, every one made by the young girls themselves and home-made coffee. This was their first attempt at a social and they deserve credit for it. Miss Clara Midcal is their efficient teacher.

WHY IS IT?

Why is it that so many people are always complaining of not having everything the world affords, and always grumbling with what they do possess when there are so many cases like the following all around us? This family lives in Los Angeles—American people. The father has just returned from the county hospital, unable to do any kind of work, the mother all crippled up with rheumatism, and trying to wash in order to help along, five children in the family, the oldest a girl of 15 years being the main or rather the sole support and besides doing all the work, takes lessons at odd times in stenography trying to make a little headway, and keep the family from want. One boy lying in bed with tuberculosis, we say bed, but he lays on some old clothes, coats or pieces of them, old skirts, etc., sewed together with great hard seams, in place of a nice soft mattress for the poor little body. And for covering he has some old clothes patched together for quilts; and that's all, and good underclothing almost unknown to them. Their other wants are in proportion. This is an actual fact and the family has been visited by members of the Ladies' Aid of the West Glendale M. E. church who have helped the family out in quite a substantial way. But still they are in great need. The father is a large man and clothing to fit him is rather hard to find. Any one having anything in the way of clothes or bedding couldn't find a better use for it than to donate it to this family.

VALLEY VIEW

A brother of Henry Webster is visiting him at 1517 Vine street.

W. H. G. Sackett and family have moved into one of Mr. Martin's rear cottages at 441 Pacific.

Mrs. Jackson, a trained nurse of Los Angeles, is attending her brother, W. B. Valle, who is sick at his home on Vine street.

J. E. Bellue, a trusted employee of Cunningham, Curtis & Welch, Los Angeles, has bought the property at 1641 Oak street and moved in last week with his wife and four children.

The West Glendale Methodist Sunday school had an attendance of 136 last Sunday, the biggest yet. The new pastor, Rev. Maurice Walton, who is a reader and entertainer of considerable note, will give some of his former programs in the church during the next few weeks.

C. H. Darling of 1622 Oak street fell from the roof of a new house which Milton Hease is building at the corner of Salem and Remington, Monday forenoon, landing on his head and left hand. He was unconscious for ten minutes and then was able to walk home. He suffered a slight fracture of the skull, a sprained wrist and some severe bruises, but was not seriously injured.

Valley View's big grocery store had a genuine novelty on sale this week in the shape of real lye hominy made from white corn. Mrs. Robert Peters, mother of one of the proprietors, was the manufacturer of the product and she made it with all the skill she had exercised in the culinary art for so many years in Illinois, where she raised a family of thirteen children. She is spending the winter in Glendale with her son and family.

The police force was so busy watching Halloween marauders in the business part of Glendale last Thursday night that Valley View was left unprotected. Very little real damage was done but one act was committed that suggests a train of moral reflection. An aged man who gave several years to his country's service in the time of her dire need in '61 to '65, placed his vegetable wagon by which he makes his living in a locked enclosure. Yet this enclosure was broken into, the wagon hauled away and left in the middle of the road where it might have been struck and ruined by an auto, and a portion of his stock was taken. Very little damage was done, but three crimes were committed by the persons guilty of the prank, burglarious entry, stealing and malicious mischief. Had these acts been committed on any of the other 365 nights of the year, the criminals would have been arrested and punished. Why is a crime not a crime when committed on the night of October 31st. Is it not time that the criminals be punished for the thousands of dollars' worth of property destroyed every Halloween night? Is it not likely that some of these have been started on his career of crime by a lawless act committed on such a night and never punished. Parents should think soberly over these matters and consider whether we are drifting.

CASA VERDUGO AND NORTH GLENDALE

J. C. Denerle of Central avenue has departed for Cobalt, Ontario, for an inspection of his mining interests at that camp.

H. A. Michel has sold the Swiss chalet bungalow, 825 Lincoln Place to Cornelius Sunkes for a consideration of $2800.

H. A. Michel has bought the southwest corner of Kenwood and Doran streets, and will begin at once the erection of a two-story dwelling thereon.

J. B. Farrell has made a sale of the lot and bungalow No. 1120 Viola avenue to Laura B. Jones. The place has been rented to A. L. Butler of Los Angeles.

Mrs. John Wyvell of Brand boulevard who has spent the summer at Brainard, Minn., her old home, arrived back in time to vote the presidential ticket.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. M. Ray and family of Tennessee have arrived for permanent location in Casa Verdugo and are stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. C. Penn of North Maryland avenue. In resigning from the 100,000 club of Memphis, Mr. Ray has some compensation in joining the Los Angeles 1,000,000 population in 1920 association.

Two weeks ago W. S. Porter of Brand boulevard was taken to the California hospital, Los Angeles, for personal treatment of a serious nature. A delicate surgical operation was performed and the critical stages have been passed in safety. The patient now convalescent in a satisfactory manner, expects to return home in about two weeks.

Postal deliveries in the north end are managed by a system puzzling to the residents. Arden avenue outside of the Glendale city limits has letter carrier service, while Louise and other streets east of the boulevard all within Glendale city limits are without mail delivery. The delivery on rural route No. 1 ceased entirely on Melrose and San Rafael avenues, without any explanation whatever.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson B. Burt having sold their home on Remington street gave possession to the new owner on the first of the month. Mr. and Mrs. Burt will stop with relatives in South Pasadena until after the holidays when they will return to occupy their new home which is planned to be finished about that time.

Halloween was enjoyed in a clean and right merry manner by the younger boys and girls of Casa Verdugo. A large party, some in ghostly shrouds, and all equipped with the traditional pumpkin with gleaming grins, glared through the porch windows at the assembled occupants, all to the accompaniment of hilarious shouts.

Chas. W. Kent and Roy L. Kent of Arden avenue, with guests, have returned from a two weeks' hunting trip in Inyo county in the vicinity of Bishop. The 500-mile trip was made with comfort and satisfaction in the family touring car. Although the season for deer had closed, small game in abundance was encountered, while three-pound trout in the clear mountain streams were superabundant. The auto trip afforded a good opportunity of inspecting the aqueduct work, which appeared to be a first-class job. The quality of the mountain water destined to supply Los Angeles was tested, and pronounced to be as fine as any in the world. Inyo county was found to be a fruit and agricultural wonder, a veritable empire tributary to Los Angeles, and yet only in the first stages of development.

EAGLE ROCK TO ENTERTAIN CELEBRATED ARTISTS.

Mrs. Ward Dutcher Hume, who has been in the valley for several months and organized the very successful Choral club, is preparing a series of concerts to take place in Eagle Rock in the near future, which will be notable musical events by reason of the celebrities expected to take part in them. Mrs. Hume is a friend of Mrs. Ellen Beach Yaw and Mr. Clarence Eddy, and it is expected that both of these artists will participate in the programs to be presented. Another artist of some renown who will probably appear is Miss Wady, who has lately returned from Europe and is a singer of note. The first concert will probably be given in December, when Miss Yaw is expected to sing.
